

REV. KIRKLAND AT CAMP BLANDING

Narberth Pastor To Spend November With Soldiers

The Rev. Bryant M. Kirkland, pastor of the Narberth Presbyterian Church, left on Monday to spend the month of November ministering to the men stationed at Camp Blanding, Fla. While he is there, his address will be Box 403, Starke, Fla.

His month of ministry to the military is made possible by the Presbyterian War-Time Service Commission.

During his absence, guest preachers at the Narberth Church will be:

November 7, the Rev. David A. Noble, pastor and radio preacher of Levering Presbyterian church of Roxborough.

November 14, the Rev. Osborne Schumppert, pastor of Patterson Memorial Presbyterian Church, Philadelphia.

November 21, the Rev. Robert Bringham, pastor of the Rhawnhurst Presbyterian Church.

November 25, Thanksgiving Day Service, the Rev. William McLeister, 2d, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, Woodstown, N. J.

November 28, the Rev. William Powers, professor of Theology at Eastern Baptist Theological Seminary, Overbrook.

Last Sunday, Dr. John Van Ness, pastor emeritus of the church, occupied the pulpit. He and Mrs. Van Ness left this week to spend the winter in St. Petersburg, Fla.

NARBERTH SCHOOL NEWS

A Halloween party was held in Narberth Public School's gymnasium, on October 29. All grades attended and everyone was in costume.

Prizes were awarded for the cleverest and prettiest costumes. The teachers were in charge of the party and their committees were: Prizes, Mr. Lehman, Miss Henry and Mrs. Hunsicker; Entertainment, Mr. Shank, Mrs. Napes and Miss White; Refreshments, Miss Fritsch and Mrs. Thompson; Decoration, Miss Gassner, Miss Sell and Mr. Cappalonga.

New Class In Home Nursing

A second class in Home Nursing will start Tuesday, November 9, at 7:30 p. m., at the American Red Cross headquarters, St. George's, Ardmore.

Applicants may enroll either by telephone, Ardmore 3100, or by post card to Mrs. Harold Pender, chairman of Nurses' Aides and Home Nursing.

ORGANIZE FOR 1943 WAR CHEST DRIVE

Personnel Named For Campaign On Main Line

Organizing work for the United War Chest campaign on the Main Line is going forward rapidly in the territory from Ardmore to Overbrook.

Under the chairmanship of J. Randall Williams, Jr., of Narberth, this section, known as Main Line Division No. 1 in the War Chest set-up, includes Ardmore, Wynne, Merion and Overbrook.

It is expected that more than 1000 workers will be enrolled in this division prior to the opening of the campaign on November 28.

Hundreds of Main Line men and women are among those in the armed forces who have been helped in various ways by the U.S.O., which is enabled by funds from the United War Chest to maintain 20 organizations for service men and women in the Philadelphia area, 2000 elsewhere in the United States and 145 outside of the country.

In its 1944 campaign which opens November 28, the United War Chest is seeking the funds vitally needed by the U.S.O. to maintain and expand its services to those in the armed forces of the Nation.

By giving to the United War Chest, you help maintain the morale of our Army and Navy. Announcement was made this week of the directors, associate directors and secretaries for the six districts in Main Line Division No. 1 as follows:

Ardmore—Henry N. Woolman, director; Captain E. W. Bonaffon, Charles J. Westgate, the Rev. J. Wesley Rennie, L. A. Eppinger and E. L. Irwin, associate directors; Mrs. Thomas A. Baxter and Mrs. C. P. Abell, secretaries.

Wynnewood—Mrs. Owen J. Toland, director; Mrs. Edwin W. Semans and Mrs. K. J. Biederman, associate directors.

Penn Valley—Robert K. McInnes, director; Mrs. Charles E. Kenworthy, secretary.

GOP Sweeps Narberth, Lower Merion Elect 3 Councilmen In Borough

Duer and Jenkins Returned by Huge Majorities

Three members of Borough Council, three school directors, two justices of the peace, an auditor and a constable were elected in Narberth Tuesday. All those elected are Republicans and, except for the Magistrates, were unopposed.

In the Borough's only election contest, for two magistrate posts, Otto B. Duer and J. Louis Jenkins, the incumbents, were returned to office with overwhelming majorities over their opponent, Fred R. Walzer. Walzer, a Republican, was defeated by Duer and Jenkins in the Republican primary in September, but won the Democratic nomination by write-in votes. Jenkins appeared on Tuesday's ballots both on the Republican and Democratic ticket since he also was nominated by Democratic write-in votes at the primary.

The magistrate vote was: Walzer—278. Jenkins, D.—158. Jenkins, R.—1064. Duer—1091.

Roland Fleer, president of Borough Council, received one write-in vote for magistrate in the third district.

Of the three candidates for Borough Council, William P. Davies polled the highest vote with 1248; Franklin C. Hutchinson received 1244 votes, and Robert M. Cameron, new member of Council, received 1240 votes.

The Rev. Cletus Senft had the highest vote of the three unopposed school director candidates. He received 1249 votes; Mrs. Lulu V. McCartney polled 1240 votes and Walter Steckbeck 1237.

F. Richard Gifford was elected auditor with 1177 votes and John A. Miller, constable, with 1183 votes.

PHILLIES SIGN UP GEORGE JOSEPH

Pitcher Was Voted Most Valuable by M. L. League

The shortest road to the big leagues appears to be gained by being acclaimed the most valuable player of the Main Line Baseball League.

George Joseph, who was voted that honor after pitching Brookline from fifth to third place this past season, signed a contract, Monday, to pitch with the Phillies in the National League next year.

In 1942, Joey Burns, Narberth third baseman, was voted the league's most valuable player and was later signed by the Boston Braves, with whom he played last year.

Joseph, 23-year-old right hander 4-F and a resident of North Philadelphia, pitched in eight games in the Main Line League allowed 31 hits in 57 innings, fanned 51 and walked 15 in winning six games and losing one during the regular season. He pitched and lost all three games that Brookline played with Narberth in the preliminary playoffs. Narberth went on to win the title by taking three straight from Manoa.

Joseph played with Durham in the Piedmont League; Milford in the Eastern Shore League, and Clinton, Iowa, in the Three-Eye League before launching a comeback in the Main Line League.

Merion Post In Memorial Service At Overbrook Church

The officers and members of Post No. 545 of the American Legion will participate in an Armistice Sunday Service at Overbrook Presbyterian Church on Sunday, November 7, at 11 A. M. Byron B. Pace, of Merion, commander of the Post, will give a brief address on "The Present Significance of Armistice Day."

A service of remembrance for all members of the Post who have passed away will be conducted during which the officers of the Post who have passed away will be conducted during which the officers of the Post will place a wreath for them in the hancel. Taps will be sounded by buglers from the Lower Merion High School. Dr. George Barnes will preach a sermon upon "Looking Forward." A special musical program will be provided by the choir.

Disbrow, King and Keighton Spoke at Rotary Tuesday

Dr. E. R. Disbrow, Jr., addressed the weekly luncheon meeting of the Bala-Cynwyd-Narberth Rotary Club Tuesday. He reported that Pennsylvania has 248 Rotary clubs, the largest number in any state of the Union.

I. Stanley King, Bala-Cynwyd pharmacist, and the Rev. Robert E. Keighton, pastor of the Baptist Church of the Evangel, Narberth, spoke briefly on the ethics in their respective professions.

Servicemen recently returned from Guadalcanal will speak at next week's meeting.

TO OPEN BOOTHS FOR XMAS SEAL SALES

Mrs. Douglas Miner To Have Charge In Narberth

Miss Ada M. Beerstecher, executive secretary of the Community Health and Civic Association Ardmore, has announced the chairmen for two booths which will open on the Main Line the week of November 22, for the sale of Tuberculosis Seals.

Mrs. Frank M. Mellor, Morris Park Rd., Overbrook Hills, will be in charge of the booth at the Pennsylvania Company, 7 E. Lancaster Ave., Ardmore, while Mrs. Douglas C. Miner, 416 Woodside Ave., Narberth, will have the booth at the Narberth Post Office.

"For the first time, the Christmas Seal of the National Tuberculosis Association and its 1700 affiliated associations in the United States will be used this year by the national tuberculosis organizations of four other of the United Nations—England, Canada, Brazil and Mexico—to raise money for their respective campaigns against the disease, the Rev. Robert J. Gottschall, president of the Montgomery County Tuberculosis Association, said yesterday.

The artist is Andre Dugo, an American-Hungarian who lived in Paris before coming to this country years ago, and is married to an American woman and their son is an officer in the U. S. Navy.

Posters will go on post offices bulletin boards this week and Christmas seals will be permitted on all mail beginning this week, according to the Post Office Department.

Peters, Barker Win County Offices With Ease

Despite rain and war-time conditions Main Line Republicans in Tuesday's election hit their pre-New Deal style and buried their Democratic opponents under heavy majorities.

By top-heavy votes, running as high as ten-to-one in some places, they carried all 19 election districts in Lower Merion Township and three in Narberth Borough.

Their overwhelming majorities contributed to the election of a Republican superior court judge in the State and in Montgomery County a judge of the Common Pleas Court, two County Commissioners, Sheriff, register of wills, recorder of deeds, clerk of courts, treasurer, district attorney, coroner, and surveyor.

Narberth made a good showing in substantial Republican majorities and in the percentage of vote polled. Neither one of the three Borough election districts, however, managed to reach 60 percent of the registered vote as some had hoped on Monday before the election. The big vote was out in Narberth No. 2 where in the contest for Superior Court Judge, Claude T. Reno received 494 votes to 118 cast for Curtis Bok, Democrat.

In the county offices, Narberth gave the Republican County Commissioners, Fred C. Peters and Foster C. Hillegass, customarily heavy majorities. Peters polled 1161 in Narberth and Hillegass 1131. Raymond Mench and Gerald Nocton, Democrats, received 182 and 154 respectively.

Under the law, three county commissioners must be elected and (Continued on Page 3)

WOMEN PLAN FOR ANNUAL MEETING

Will Make Special Study of State Government

The monthly meeting of the executive board of the Lower Merion-Narberth Council of Republican Women was held on Monday at the Township Building, Ardmore.

Plans for the annual convention of the Pennsylvania Council of Republican Women at Harrisburg, Nov. 6, 17 and 18, were discussed. Mrs. Edgar Cockrill, Narberth, is in charge of reservations.

The Pennsylvania State Government will be the theme for consideration this year by the legislative study and discussion group as announced by Mrs. Benjamin Z. Strawbridge, chairman. The next meeting of the study group will be Nov. 23, at The Mermont, Bryn Mawr, with Mrs. Ray Scott Tannehill as hostess.

The executive board of the Council consists of Mrs. John Y. Huber, Jr., president; Mrs. Carl Zilp, Bryn Mawr; Mrs. Helen Greenwood, Bala; Mrs. Edgar H. Cockrill, Narberth; Mrs. Samuel L. Velch, Penn Wynne; Mrs. Benjamin Z. Strawbridge, Overbrook Hills, and Mrs. Edgar Felton, Jr., Haverford, vice-presidents; Mrs. Earle Hepburn, Merion, treasurer; Mrs. Joseph F. Scull, Bala-Cynwyd, recording secretary; Mrs. Theodore Phillips, Wynnewood, corresponding secretary.

SCOUTS CELEBRATE 26TH ANNIVERSARY

Merion Troop Had Father and Son Meeting

Merion Liberty troop, Boy Scouts, celebrated its 26th anniversary last Monday night. Demonstrations of first aid, knot tying and fire building were given, and various awards were presented.

The loyalty badge was presented to P. Erwin and the troop committee citation to R. Kane. William Vogel was presented with his Eagle Scout badge. Scouts Erwin and Kane were inducted as junior assistant Scoutmasters, and V. Pfeiffer as senior patrol leader. Dr. Charles Beheny, chairman of the district executive committee, was present.

Henry Smith is Scoutmaster of the troop, with Assistant Scoutmasters Whetstone and Belfield. Belfield is the son of the original Scoutmaster of the troop, George Roberts is chairman of the troop committee.

Troop 3, of St. John's Episcopal Church, Bala, had a parents meeting on the same evening. Demonstrations of first aid and fire building were given, and several skits presented. Refreshments were served. Scoutmaster Walters and Russell Blackwood, junior assistant Scoutmaster, conduct the meeting.

Final plans for the Main Line District Dinner, to be held November 18, at the Narberth Methodist Church, have just been released. The Rev. Carl R. Hammerly, pastor of the Narberth Methodist Church, will deliver the invocation. E. W. Barnes, secretary of the Ardmore Y. M. C. A., will lead the singing of popular songs, with Mrs. Jack Wilson as pianist.

L. B. Curtis, district commissioner, will speak on the neighborhoods and Dr. Charles A. Beheny, chairman of the district executive committee, will conduct a short business meeting.

Greetings will be given by William R. Oles, district Scout executive, and Arnold G. Sorenson, Scout executive of the Valley Forge Council. Awards will be made by S. Edgar Downs, member of the district executive committee. The principal speaker will be Arthur W. Blinn, president of the Valley Forge Council.

Two new members of the district executive committee were welcomed at the last meeting. Dr. E. F. Burt is the new chairman of the health and safety committee, and R. M. Beech is vice chairman of the activities committee.

Lieut. Steve Ring A Hero; Sank Warship In Pacific

From "somewhere in the Pacific" came word on Monday that a well-known Main Line man is a hero.

Lieutenant Stephen Ring, 25, co-pilot, of Wilkesburg, Pa., pilot, was patrolling alone over a lonely stretch of Pacific Ocean not long ago when they spotted two Japanese warships.

Although they had no other planes to back them up they took their Liberator bomber in to the attack, but were driven off by ack-ack.

Twenty-five minutes later they returned. This time their bombs sank one warship and badly crippled the other.

Lieutenant Ring, a graduate of Haverford School, class of 1938, attended Brown University. He is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Louis W. Ring, of Villanova.

In recent years, he has made his home with his godfather, Frederick C. Peters, president of the Montgomery County Board of Com-

HSIEH SAYS U. S. IS CHINA'S BEST FRIEND

Chinese Scholar Addressed Club Here Tuesday

America and Americans are China's greatest friends, Dr. Tehyl Hsieh, Chinese scholar and lecturer told members of the Women's Community Club of Narberth Tuesday.

The help of America, he said, means that at last, after working since 1911, China is established in the eyes of the democratic world as an equal. China today, he declared, is the bridgehead between the East and the West.

Many steps in China's progress are unknown to Americans, Dr. Hsieh reported. By 1950 there will be no illiteracy in China, unsanitary conditions have been done away with, highways are paved, women's feet are no longer bound, women can vote and now serve on juries.

"With the help of her allies," Dr. Hsieh declared, "China hopes to change the spelling of Japanese to Jap-on-knees."

Mrs. Ellsworth Clark introduced the speaker. Mrs. H. C. Middleton, Jr., president of the club, presided. Hostesses were Mrs. H. F. Stevens and Mrs. George Gilpin. Mrs. John S. Ketcham and Mrs. W. J. Kolb presided at the tea table.

The recent moving picture benefit netted $118, Mrs. Joseph H. Miller, project chairman reported. The next meeting of her committee will (Continued on Page 4)

Narberth Juniors

The Junior Women's Community Club of Narberth held a bridge party for the benefit of the Needlework Guild this week at the Community Building, with the welfare committee in charge. Admission to the bridge was two new infant garments for the Needlework Guild.

A meeting of the board of directors will be held at the home of the club's president, Mrs. Frederick M. Robb, Jr., on Tuesday evening, November 9.

At the club meeting on November 18, the Braille Committee will present a speaker from the Overbrook School for the Blind.

The first fall meeting of the Book Club was held at the home of its chairman, Miss Margaret Robertson, 101 Woodside Ave., Narberth, on October 25. Current books were reviewed by Mrs. G. Emerson Barnes.

Mrs. William E. Clear, Jr., was reappointed treasurer of the Book Club and Mrs. William M. Cusack appointed secretary. Other members of the club are: Mrs. L. N. Blugerman, Mrs. A. M. Bottoms, Mrs. Edmund Crocheron, Mrs. Harry R. Davis, Jr., Mrs. Louis Devaney, Mrs. John W. Eldenberg, Mrs. Ernest J. George, Jr., Mrs. Louis I. Getzow, Mrs. Roy I. Gowland, Mrs. Larry H. Baptist Church of Evangel Marks Golden Anniversary

The Baptist Church of the Evangel in Narberth is celebrating its 50th anniversary this year. Observation of the occasion will start with a communion service this Sunday at 11 A. M. and end with a special anniversary service next Sunday.

During the intervening week, two evening events are scheduled.

On Wednesday, November 10, there will be a denominational night program, starting at P. M. The Rev. Robert E. Keighton, pastor of the church, will speak on "Our Church and Our Denomination"; the Rev. B. L. Scott, president of the Philadelphia Baptist Ministers' Conference, will discuss "Our Church and the Philadelphia Association"; "Our Church and the Pennsylvania Convention" will be the subject of an address by Dr. George R. Merriam, director of Missionary Co-operation; Mrs. Howard Wayne Smith, a member of the Executive Council, will talk about "Our Church and the Northern Baptist Convention," and Dr. William Roy McNutt, professor of Practical Theology, will speak on

"Our Church and Crozer Seminary."

Community Night, a social evening, will be held Friday, November 12, starting at 8 P. M. Greetings will be given by representatives of the community, and the choir, under the direction of Walter B. Talit, with Dorothy Boersig as accompanist, will sing special numbers.

At the anniversary service on November 14, Dr. Reuben E. E. Harkness, professor of Church History at Crozer Theological Seminary, will deliver the main address. The following is a brief history of the church as presented in a special anniversary booklet issued this week:

On the evening of May 18, 1891, a small group gathered in the home of the Rev. Thomas C. Trotter to consider the formation of a Baptist church in the community of Elm, Pa., later to be called Narberth. Those present were the Rev. Mr. Trotter and his wife, his sister Mary W. Trotter, his niece, Anna B. Trotter, his three sons, (Continued on Page 3)

This Week IN WASHINGTON

From what little information is released about it, the three-power conference in Russia seems to be doing a great deal toward cementing relations between Russia, Great Britain and the United States. But there is little doubt that the Russians feel they have played the lead role in the war so far and will want the head place at the peace table unless we do considerably more than we have done so far.

While the talks in Russia were proceeding, governmental officials here realized that Russians were following news from this country with greater interest than usual—and there was therefore considerable embarrassment here over the Senate's delay in agreeing to commit this nation to "join with free and sovereign nations in the establishment and maintenance of international authority, with power to prevent aggression." It was realized by all at the Russian conference that the statements of our conferees on post-war arrangements were rather meaningless until the Senate had clearly stated how far this country would go in sharing international responsibilities.

It was also embarrassing to Washington officials and our conferees in Russia, when discussions of new fronts and increased supplies were being carried on, for the news in our country to be centered on new strikes and threats of strikes in essential industries.

Although the 350,000 railroad employees who are seeking higher wages are doing so in an orderly fashion, the possibility of a paralysis of wartime transportation unless these demands are met is frightening to contemplate. Even a short tie-up of the railroads could interrupt the steady flow of vital supplies to our soldiers at the front, it could stop production in thousands of war plants and it could seriously interfere with the food supply of both soldiers and civilians in our own country.

Almost equally dangerous would be any further major interruption in the production of coal, which has been threatened ever since the government turned the mines back to private operators. Even without coal strikes there will be a real shortage of coal this winter, but any further major stoppage in production would be a catastrophe. Thousands of tons of coal were lost to war production factories by the strikes in Alabama. Viewing this and other threats of coal strikes as even more dangerous than the strikes last spring, Charles E. Wilson, acting chairman of WPB, said:

"Surely no American wants to see our steel plants close down for lack of coal, or wants to see our shipyards idle or wants to see our munitions held up that are needed for the fighting men overseas. But that may well happen if the coal situation is not solved and solved promptly. It is a key problem that concerns every American right." It is expected that both the coal situation and the railroad difficulties can only be settled by the government giving in and granting wage increases. Particularly in the coal situation, past experience has shown that the miners will carry out a strike without considering its effect on war production unless they get what they want—and there is no law, at present, which can stop a strike. The present anti-strike law can be invoked only when the government takes over the mines and operates them as government property. But to do any permanent good under this law, it would mean that the government would have to take over the mines for the duration.

In stating that this is a problem which concerns every American right now, Mr. Wilson probably hopes that the American people will get stirred up enough over legislation to demand stronger legislation from their congressmen.

Blue Cross Baby To Get Bond Instead of Layette

Philadelphia's annual baby hunt got under way this week with a search for a baby who will be born in a Philadelphia-area hospital on November 15, 1943. The search is an annual feature of the Anniversary Week of the Associated Hospital Service of Philadelphia, which will be celebrated November 7-15.

Since the first Blue Cross baby, Barbara Ann Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Comfort Brown, Penn Valley, was born on November 15, 1939, the Blue Cross has presented layettes each year to the first baby born on November 15, the last day of the Anniversary Week.

This year, the first Blue Cross baby born on that date will receive a $25 war bond in place of the customary layette.

McCollough Twins Still Together in Army Career

A thoughtful reader this week sent in the following story which ran in the Miami, Fla., Herald on October 31. Its subject, the McCollough twins, will be a popular one with the boys' many friends in Lower Merion and Narberth.

A twin combination which clicked successfully on the gridiron is continuing for the Army Air Forces at Miami Beach on the drill field. Sergeants Jim and Jack McCollough, identical twins, who held the regular guard positions on the University of Pennsylvania's brilliant freshman eleven last year, are still together as drill instructors in charge of trainees at the Beach.

Co-captains of the Lower Merion, Pa., High School eleven, which ranked with the strongest in the state, the 19-year-old athletes began impressive sports careers which they hope have been halted only temporarily.

"We've always worked together well," Jim says, "and we figure we're going to be a tough pair for anyone whether it be in football or on a battlefield."

"Both have been accepted for Infantry Officer Candidate School and expect to be called for training in the near future.

"While in high school the look-alike sergeants teamed to score a touchdown. Jack blocked an opponent's punt and Jim recovered for the touchdown. "They've formed an unbeatable combination in the Air Forces football league now in operation on the Beach. Jim plays in the backfield and Jack's an end, and they admit they've concocted a "few plays which go for touchdowns."

"The 185-pounders are confusing to the trainees who serve under them. Jim's in charge of Flight C and Jack of Flight F and they're constantly being asked by some bewildered trainee, "Are you C or are you F?"

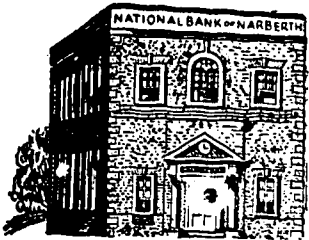

"In addition to football, the McColloughs were on the wrestling and track teams in high school and planned on continuing the sports when their enlistment ended their activities at Penn.

Merrick to Attend Dinner Honoring Pharmacy Pioneer

James B. Merrick, Ardmore Pharmacist, will be a guest at the unveiling of the fifth painting in the "Pioneers of American Medicine" series to be held Friday at the Hotel Barclay. The 1943 painting, by Dean Cornwell, noted American muralist, honors William Procter, Jr., "father of American pharmacy" and is one of twelve sponsored by John Wyeth & Brother, manufacturing chemists, of this city. Dr. Ivor Griffith, president of the American Pharmaceutical Society will be principal speaker at the unveiling dinner.

HIGH NOTES

by
DAVID MALICKSON
Class of 1945—Lower Merion High School

After many weeks of deliberation, Mr. John M. Fetter has been chosen sponsor for the Sophomore Class. Mr. Fetter will be formally introduced to the class sometime next week. Also at this "get together" nominations of students for the various offices—president, vice-president, secretary and treasurer—will be received. The newly-picked sponsor, a commercial subject teacher, graduated from Franklin and Marshall College and also Temple University where he received his Ed. M.

All the students in the Junior and Senior class who are interested in the profession of teaching are invited to attend the Teacher Career to be held at the University of Pennsylvania on November 20. The purpose of this meeting is to present to those who attend, the opportunities in this field and to discuss the preparation required to enter the courses given at college. After a brief, general meeting, groups relating to the subject in which the person attending is interested will be formed. All girls who attend the conference will be entertained at a luncheon given by the Dean of Women and will join her in an afternoon program. As for the boys attending, they also will be entertained at a luncheon and an afternoon program by the various honor societies and the Education Alumni Association. It is hoped that many L. M. students will attend the conference. Sign up now, if you haven't done so already, with Miss Enslow in the Guidance Office.

SALUTE OF THE WEEK—goes to Garrett Rule who has charge of the amplifying system at all school events. Many hours of relentless work are necessary to "wire up" the auditorium or gymnasium previous to programs which are to be presented.

Because a more accurate means of determining what caliber of work the student does was needed all schools in Lower Merion Township have adopted a new marking system. Although this writer has already mentioned the change we believe it necessary to review the newly adopted marks because the first quarter ends this Friday, November 5 (and also to assure the parents protection from Johnny coming home and asking if you'll give him a dollar for every "E" he received). The grade of "A" is the equivalent of a mark between 92-100; "B" from 85-91; "C", 75-84; "D", 70-74; "E", failing.

The students of Lower Merion have again been asked to contribute whatever they can afford, to the American Red Cross. It is the goal of every home room to have every student contribute to this most worthy cause. Let's go, Merionites—Make it 100 per cent. in the entire school.

Although many public schools in Philadelphia are planning to alter their school day in one way or another so that the students may work during the Christmas "rush" season to help relieve the manpower shortage, Lower Merion will hold regular sessions and have the usual Christmas vacation, unless of course an unforeseen event occurs. The Christmas vacation this year is from December 18, 1943, until January 3, 1944.

Speaking of the yuletide season—the students and faculty of L. M. this year are going to contribute to the project of sending uniform Christmas Cards to all the fellows and girls in the armed forces who formerly attended Ellem. This is truly a grand idea—why don't other schools copy?

FLASHES—Dan Poore won the Maxwell Award for his fine playing in the Peddie Prep Football Game. Congratulations! . . . Basketball practice started at Lower Merion on November first. How about another State Championship Team, Andy??

November 6—Football, Norristown, at Norristown.

November 9—Soccer, Episcopal, home.

November 10—Assembly "A".

November 11—Soccer, Haverford, at Haverford.

November 12—Hockey, Haverford, at Haverford.

November 12—First Quarter Report Cards Issued.

November 13—Showpeople play—Stage Door.

November 20—Fall Prom.

SOLDIERS' ALLOWANCE PAYMENTS

Soldiers' dependent must fill out and return a new, one-sheet dependency certificate to benefit by new rates provided by recent servicemen's allowance legislation, the War Department announced. All dependents now receiving family allowances are being sent copies of the new form. These should be filled out, witnessed, and returned to the Office of Dependency Benefits as soon as practicable to avoid possible discontinuance of allowances. Until new accounts can be set up, dependents now receiving family allowances will continue to receive their checks in the old amounts. After an account is converted, any sums accrued as a result of an increase in allowances will be included in the first check. The conversion from old to new accounts will take several months.

PEANUT BUTTER PRICES DOWN

Reduction of consumer prices for peanut butter from 33.1 cents to about 26.5 cents per pound, effective November 1, was recently announced by WFA and OPA. The reduction is part of the wartime program to increase use of peanuts in making peanut butter and increase consumption of easily produced foods of high protein content.

30 DAYS' NOTICE ON STAMP 18

The public will be given 30 days' notice, should it become necessary to terminate Shoe Ration Stamp 18. This announcement was made recently by OPA to "kill" scare-buying rumors that the validity period of Stamp 18 might be cancelled with only 24 hours' notice to consumers.

PREDICT AMPLE COFFEE

"Coffee supplies in the U. S. should remain ample for the duration," according to George C. Thierbach, president of the National Coffee Association. Imports into the U. S. this year were in excess of any year except 1941. Recently Chester Bowles, general manager of OPA, said "there is not the slightest idea of rationing coffee again." Coffee stamps in Ration Book Four were designed and sent to the printer months ago when coffee was still being rationed.

NO COUPON RATIONING OF COAL

There will be no coupon rationing of coal during the coming winter, according to OPA. Deliveries are being curtailed so as to spread supplies as evenly as possible. The coal shortage is primarily in anthracite, the Solid Fuels Administration for War reports, and anthracite users are urged to supplement hard coal with bituminous coal. Copies of "Supplementing Anthracite With Other Fuels For Home Heating" (information circular 7260) may be obtained without charge by writing to the Division of Information, Solid Fuels Administration, Interior Department, Washington 2, D. C.

LIFT RESTRICTIONS ON ELASTIC

Restrictions on the use of elastic fabric in girdles, corsets, combinations, sanitary belts, garter belts, and brassieres have been lifted by WPB. However, it is believed no all-rubber garments will be on the market until the early part of 1944, and it will be some time after that before full-scale production will be possible.

BANS HARMFUL ANTIFREEZE

To protect motorists and truck operators, the War Production Board last Saturday halted all sales of an estimated half million gallons of destructive antifreeze. WPB warned motorists who already have filled their radiators with any of the ately and refill with the alcohol or ethylene glycol type. Harm-banned products to drain and flush the cooling system immediately. Trade names of the products whose sales were halted are: All-Winter, Chem-A-Cool, Frezone, Permazone, Wonder-Solv, Lo-Zone, Alcotex, Ever-Flo, Bird Anthracite, Flexi, Gold Seal, Security, Ant-Arctic, Neva-Freeze, Anti-Frost, Bond (Top Line), Fre-Zex, No-Freeze, 60-Below, Lo-Temp, Never Freeze, and No-Boil.

MAIL CHRISTMAS CARDS NOW

Christmas cards to soldiers overseas should be mailed at once, the War Department says. They must be sent in sealed envelopes as first class mail. Christmas cards mailed now will reach even the most remote APO's by December 25, according to the Army Postal Service.

HOSIERY PRICES INCREASED

Higher ceiling prices for some of the finer gauges of women's full fashioned rayon hosiery have been established by OPA. Prices for 45 and 57 gauge hose have been increased from $1.18 to $1.41 per pair. Sixty gauge and higher have been increased from $1.31 to $1.69.

Lindell H., Irvin W. and Thomas C., Jr., his two daughters, Sallie J. Trotter and Mrs. E. L. Reiff; Mrs. Reiff's three sons: Stanley, Lewis and Spencer; Mr. Harry S. Hopper, a member of the First Baptist Church of Philadelphia, who was then living in Elm; Mr. and Mrs. William B. Godfrey, resident Baptists and their son Niels R. Godfrey.

The results of the meeting may well be summarized in the words of the "sketch of the work" that was read on November 28, 1893, to delegates from the Baptist Churches of Philadelphia and vicinity, called to recognize the church as an independent Baptist church.

"In the fall of 1890 union services were held in a dwelling house on Elmwood Avenue on the south side of the Penna. R. R. at Elm Station. Preaching services were held each Sabbath morning and Sabbath school exercises each afternoon. These union services were continued until the following spring, when a meeting was called to consider the formation of a Baptist mission, which was accomplished under the supervision of the First Baptist Church of Philadelphia. A lot was secured, and a temporary building was erected and opened on June 28, 1891.

"This was used until the present building was ready for occupancy. The new building was begun in September, 1891, and the cornerstone was laid with appropriate ceremonies on October 10th, 1891. The lower room was occupied the first Sunday in January, 1892. On April 14, 1892, the house was formally opened. The first observance of the Lord's Supper was held on the 17th of July following and the first baptism of three candidates on the 18th of September.

1892. The pastor of the Mother Church, Dr. George Dana Boardman officiated on each occasion.

room with the weekly papers and magazines, together with a library of about 300 volumes, opened free to all. Games are also provided and occasionally special entertainments, all under the care of our Young People's Working Association, which is also active in church work. We have also the Evangel Circle of King's Daughters, which has made itself a power for good in this community and brought gladness and good cheer to a goodly number in the city and elsewhere.

"Such has been our growth, and so strong has been our hold on the community, that we seemed warranted in the organization of an independent church. At a business meeting held October 13, 1893, it was resolved to organize, and committees were appointed on organization and to wait on the First Church of Philadelphia."

The meeting voted to recognize the Baptist Church of the Evangel as an independent church. Such action had been approved by the church itself on November 14, and had been achieved by the parent church on November 3, 1893 1893, the date of the founding of the church.

The Rev. Harold Kennedy became the first pastor in December, 1893, and served until 1902, when he was succeeded by the Rev. John Milnor Wilbur, whose pastorate terminated in 1907. The pastors who have since served the church are: Alexander H. Thoburn, 1907-1910; John Gordon, as acting pastor for five months; Emerson I. Swift, 1911-1916; Avery S. Demmy, 1917-1924 and Robert E. Keighton, from 1924 to the present.

In July, 1923, during the pastorate of the Rev. Avery S. Demmy, a new church building was planned and the work begun. A modern church auditorium and educational building were erected at a cost of $100,000. Just before their completion, Mr. Demmy resigned to accept a call to another church. The new buildings were dedicated in a week of services from November 23-30, 1924, at which time the Rev. Robert E. Keighton was presented as the minister-elect. He assumed his duties on Sunday, December 21, 1924.

Results Indicate Republican Trend

The following statement was issued by Lloyd H. Wood, chairman of the Montgomery County Republican Committee, following Tuesday's election:

"The splendid returns in Tuesday's election indicate the renewed interest of the Republicans of Montgomery County and their confidence in the representative Republican Organization which conducted a brief but enthusiastic campaign but enthusiastic campaign with meetings that were well attended.

"The unmistakable inference that may be drawn from the results in Montgomery County together with the returns in neighboring states show what results may be looked for in the important presidential election which will take place next year.

TODAY and TOMORROW
By DON ROBINSON

SECRETS news

I'm getting very sick of listening to "know-it-alls" who try to attract attention to themselves by giving me, or anyone else who will listen, the inside dope on what's wrong with our war program.

The other day, for example, a man I know centered considerable attention upon himself by making the bald statement that our troops are dying like flies in Italy. "The trouble is," he explained in a confiding manner, that we aren't hardening our men enough—a lot of them are being sent into action after only six weeks' training. How can you expect them to fight against enemy troops which have been doing nothing but training for four years or more?"

The answer to his final question would be, "You can't." But it seems obvious that this would also be the answer of our war department and that it undoubtedly would not send any man into action who had had only six weeks' training.

As for his statement that our troops are being massacred in Italy, he certainly had no secret knowledge of our casualty rate which has not been made available to all of us.

His reply to those who contradicted his statements, by quoting published casualty figures, was that we are not being told half of the story of this war. But, even if this is true, the fact would still remain that we are being told the same half that he is being told. Any additional information he can add is based entirely on unfounded rumor or pure invention.

RUMORS development

We can take it for granted that people who can't be counted upon to keep secret war information to themselves are not being entrusted with war news which is not being given to the public generally.

Any time you hear war stories which are credited to a "high authority in Washington," or to "reliable sources," or to "an army officer" or even to one of your own acquaintances who has spent a week-end in Washington or visited an army camp—if they are stories which have a demoralizing effect or tend to make you distrust our war leaders and our war ways—you are quite safe in assuming they are invention of Nazi propagandists or the product of a fertile imagination.

In many cases those "inside" stories grow out of talks with soldiers and sailors. They develop in this way:

A soldier says: "They're moving us around fast these days. A bunch of new recruits who came to my camp only six weeks ago left yesterday."

A woman, who got this report tells her neighbor: "Isn't it terrible how they are shipping boys off to fight who hardly have had any training at all. Why, a soldier told me that they're sending them abroad after only six weeks' training—to Italy I imagine."

The neighbor then tells a friend "I feel so sorry for our poor boys in Italy. Imagine being put up to the front lines after only six weeks of training. It's plain murder."

It's easy to carry that story one degree farther and arrive at the "dying like flies" chapter which is heard.

NEWSPAPERS facts

There is no doubt that we are not being given a lot of war news. The President will admit that. So will the heads of the army, the navy and the director of censorship. They find it necessary to withhold much information, which, if released, would be of benefit to the enemy.

But the point I would like to drive home is this: news which we hear which does not come from an official source is just about 100 per cent misinformation.

Our country has the best news reporters there are. They are on the job all over the world. They overlook no details in their reports of war news. Every story which they write, whether it is good or bad news, is published if it is "passed by censor." If it is not passed by the censor, then no letters concerning that subject are passed either.

The rumor factories in this country are operating full tilt today. Their production is evident wherever people meet—on trains, in subways, in churches or in barrooms. But it would be better for all of us and help keep the score straight, if, instead of listening to war gossip, we would adopt for the duration the slogan made famous by Will Rogers, "All I know is what I read in the papers."

LOWER MERION HEALTH

Eleven new cases of contagious disease were reported in Lower Merion Township during the week ending October 29. They were seven chickenpox, one measles, one mumps, one tuberculosis and one whooping cough.

Lower Merion Overwhelming Favorite In 30th Battle With Norristown High

Ordinarily Lower Merion High football fans would be all hopped up over the traditional battle with Norristown on the latter's field, Saturday afternoon. But this year the 30th renewal of Montgomery County's oldest football feud is being regarded as just another game.

Last season Lower Merion pointed for the Eagles inasmuch as both were undefeated in the Suburban Conference at that time and the ease by which the Maroon handed the Blue and White a 45-0 trouncing was a terrible letdown for team and fans alike.

This year, Norristown has only a mediocre record of two victories, three defeats and a tie while L. M. is riding high, wide and handsome on the wave of its second undefeated season. The Eagles were lucky to tie Phoenixville, 13-13, the same team Lower Merion crushed, 34-14, last Saturday, at Phoenixville. While the Maroon was handing the Phantoms their first conference reverse, Abington, beaten early in the campaign by L. M., 39-14, was polishing off Norristown, 33-13. So it's easy to understand why L. M. fans refused to get excited.

But the very factors that indicate the game should be a breeze are the ones that are giving Coach Dick Mattis spells of uneasiness.

"Yes, I suppose we should win," he admits cautiously, "but I'm afraid of overconfidence. If there ever was a spot for an upset this is it. It will be just about impossible to get our boys 'up' for the game and Norristown surely will be on the rebound after that disaster at Abington. There is nothing sure in football and I honestly believe we're in for a lot of trouble. It never pays to underestimate Norristown, especially in a game with us. A victory over us would save their season."

Lower Merion will be seeking its 15th victory in the series which started in 1904. Norristown has won 13 games and two ended in ties.

The victory over Phoenixville followed the same pattern of most conference games, although the Maroon uncorked just a bit more dynamite in the first period than usual. L. M. pushed over three rapid-fire scores in the opening quarter, added another in the second for a 27-7 half-time lead, then called it a day after scoring a fifth touchdown in the third period. As usual, the subs played most of the last half.

Frank Basile, playing probably his finest game of the year, and Ted Hepke each scored two touchdowns. Substitute Jim McQuiston tallied the other six-pointer.

Basile raced 85 yards into touchdown land with a punt the first time L. M. was given the ball, but the spectacular dash was nullified by a clipping penalty. However, about a minute later Basile took a lateral from Danny Poore and raced 26 yards for the first score.

Basile scored his other touchdown on a 13-yard end sweep just before the second quarter started.

Heuke made both of his scores on short plunges as did McQuiston. Dick Whiting's 43-yard sprint with a lateral and Moretzsohn's recovery of a fumble paved the way for two scores.

Tom McHugh, rugged Phoenixville back, scored both Phantom's touchdowns. The first on an 85-yard sprint with a pass interception in the second quarter, the second with a five-yard dash in the last quarter. He also place kicked both conversions.

Successful Parenthood

BY MRS. CATHERINE CONRAD EDWARDS
Associate Editor, Parents' Magazine

Gray Hair is Becoming

Here's a letter which brings up the question of dyeing one's hair in order to appear younger to one's children. The mother writes: "I am 40 years old and beginning to get noticeably gray. My five year old looks at me and says, 'I don't want my mother to get gray.' I have been trying to teach her that gray hair is pretty but she still says 'you'll be an old grandma when your hair gets gray.' Do you advise dyeing the hair, I don't have the money to go to the beauty parlors every week or two. Yet it does hurt to have my child feeling as she does. Besides, I have to fight to keep happy over it myself."

This mother should find comfort in the results of a questionnaire sent to 1,000 young mothers asking them: "If you found your hair was turning and you were still too young in years for gray hair, and there were available to you a competent service at moderate cost, would you color your hair?"

Nearly three-fourths of the answers were "No," and the reason most frequently given was that gray hair is becoming. This change of attitude toward graying hair is both sensible and wholesome. Gray hair is kind to fading skin and nowadays the smartest hair styles can be adapted to gray hair, so that loss of color is no longer an excuse for a woebegone hair-do.

So I should advise this mother to continue her efforts to teach her daughter that gray hair is not ugly.

Seek Recruits For Nursing Service In Army, Navy, Hospitals And Homes

Gas rationing holds no terrors for these women of the Macon, Nebraska Red Cross Home Nursing class, and when it is muddy they are glad to pile into an old farm wagon. Out of 17 who started the course, 16 completed it. Photo by: American Red Cross, Washington, D. C.
